STATEWIDE CURRENT SITUATION: On July 11, Governor Greg Abbott and First Lady Cecilia Abbott today joined President Donald J. Trump and First Lady Melania Trump during a visit to Kerr County to meet with Texas families and first responders regarding the recent severe flooding and heavy rainfall that devastated communities across Texas. The Governor and First Lady also visited the Wall of Hope in downtown Kerrville.

The Governor and the President were joined at the roundtable by U.S. Department of Agriculture Secretary Brooke Rollins, U.S. Department of Homeland Security Secretary Kristi Noem, U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development Secretary Scott Turner, U.S. Small Business Administration Administrator Kelly Loeffler, U.S. Senator John Cornyn, U.S. Senator Ted Cruz, U.S. Congressman Chip Roy, Texas Division of Emergency Management Chief Nim Kidd, Adjutant General of Texas Major General Thomas Suelzer, Texas Department of Public Safety Colonel Freeman Martin, Texas Game Warden Colonel Ron Vanderoest, Texas Chief Medical Officer Emily Kidd, Lieutenant Governor Dan Patrick, and other federal, state, and local officials, and community members.

After the roundtable, Governor Abbott and President Trump met with first responders to thank them for their selfless service to protect their fellow Americans during the deadly flooding and in the aftermath as they continue search and rescue and recovery efforts. Before departing Kerrville, Governor Abbott and First Lady Abbott stopped by the Wall of Hope to pay their respects to those who lost their lives and to visit with Texans leaving gifts and flowers.

On July 10, Governor Greg Abbott directed the Texas Division of Emergency Management (TDEM) to request additional counties be added to President Donald J. Trump's Major Disaster Declaration for recent catastrophic flooding that began impacting the state last week. Five counties – Burnet, San Saba, Tom Green, Travis, and Williamson – are requested to be eligible for Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) Individual Assistance programs, and four counties – Kendall, Kimble, Menard, and San Saba – are requested to be eligible for FEMA's Public Assistance Program.

A review of damage assessments in Burnet, San Saba, Tom Green, Travis, and Williamson counties shows they exceed federal criteria for disaster assistance and may be eligible for federal programs, which provide financial assistance to assist with qualifying disaster-related expenses. Texans can apply for FEMA disaster assistance online at disasterassistance.gov or by calling 800-621-3362. Additional counties may be added as additional damage assessments are completed in impacted communities.

Additionally, a review of damage assessments in Kendall, Kimble, Menard, and San Saba counties shows they exceed federal criteria for FEMA's Public Assistance Program, which includes assistance for emergency work and the repair or replacement of disaster-damaged facilities. Additional counties may be added as updated information becomes available.

On July 9, Governor Abbott provided an update on Texas' continued efforts to assist and support Texans and communities impacted by recent severe flooding across the state.

The State of Texas has deployed over 2,200 personnel and more than 1,200 vehicles and equipment assets. More than 20 state agencies are currently responding to flooding threats across the state.

Texans are urged to continue reporting suspected missing loved ones by calling 830-258-1111 or emailing kerrvillemissing@dps.texas.gov.

Members of the public wishing to show their support and help the community can donate through the Central Texas Flood Recovery Fund created by the OneStar Foundation, a 501(c)(3) organization.

Governor Abbott also announced that the Texas Workforce Commission (TWC) is now accepting applications for Disaster Unemployment Assistance (DUA) as a result of recent severe storms and flooding that impacted Texas. Under President Trump's Major Disaster Declaration, workers and self-employed individuals in Kerr County who have been unable to work due to damage sustained from severe weather may be eligible for DUA benefits.

Individuals affected by flooding in the designated area can apply for benefits online through Unemployment Benefit Services or by calling TWC at (800) 939-6631 between 8:00 AM and 6:00 PM, Monday through Friday. Applications for DUA benefits under this declaration must be submitted by September 4, 2025.
