STATEWIDE CURRENT SITUATION: Governor Greg Abbott today announced that he directed the Texas Division of Emergency Management (TDEM) to activate state emergency response resources in advance of severe weather expected to impact multiple regions of Texas over the next several days.

According to the National Weather Service, an approaching storm system will bring multiple rounds of thunderstorms across portions of the state through the remainder of the week. Flash flooding is the primary threat, especially in areas of West, Northwest, Central, and East Texas starting today and lasting through the later part of this week. Some of these storms will have the capability of producing widespread rainfall leading to flash flooding, damaging winds, large hail, and possible tornadoes.

OPERATIONAL PRIORITIES:

1. Protect life and property.
2. Support rapid & effective response.
3. Collect and disseminate accurate incident information to improve decision-making.
4. Accurately track incident costs associated with assigned resources for cost recovery.
